Included with this shipment

- Candy Corn Goblin(s)
- 2 Arms per Goblin

About the goblins

- The Candy Corn Goblins are made from wood, so keep them away from fire. And termites.
- They are coated with a couple of coats of clear enamel, but they can still scratch/dent if tossed around.
- They are reasonably weather-proof, but they prefer to stay out of the elements, if possible.

Positioning Arms

The Goblin's arms are a little loose in the holes. If you want to ensure they stay in a particular pose, we recommend using hot melt glue, or Tacky glue, to keep them in place. If you want them to remain mobile, but still with a tight fit:

- Dispense hot melt glue into one of the arm holes
  - Not too much though; you don't want it to squeeze out all over the place when you insert the arm
- Insert the arm
- Turn the arm back and forth, until the glue sets up
  - This will tighten the arm in the hole, but still allow it to be moved
- Repeat with other arm
